Introduction: System Description

Provide a description of the system that addresses the following elements:

The response must be written in plain language and be as comprehensive as necessary to describe the system.

(a) Whether it is a general support system, major application, or other type of system

The CWC System consists of three applications CWC IMS for internal processing and validating of declarations and reports received from industry, whether paper or internet submission. The IMS also generates the final U.S. Industrial CWC Declaration that the USG submitted to the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW), in accordance with OPCW requirements in both paper and Extensible Markup Language (XML) formats. The CWC IMS is only accessible through the CWC Local Area Network (LAN) and is further restricted by user access privileges. The CWC User Management application allows internal users with the proper access rights to administer and assign user IDs and passwords for industry's use of Web-Desi.

(b) System location

The CWC System is subsystem of TCD-NET, a major application that consists of two subsystems; a Major Application (referred to in this document as CWC) and a General Support System (Office Automation Local Area Network) (OA LAN), which is physically housed in the consolidate server room of the Department of Commerce's Herbert C. Hoover Building (HCHB).

(c) Whether it is a standalone system or interconnects with other systems (identifying and describing any other systems to which it interconnects)

The CWC System is a standalone system consisting of the following: (1) Web Data Entry Software of Industry (Web-Desi), (2) CWC Information Management System (IMS) and (3) User Management Application, as well as other tools to support collecting, processing, and storing of CWC related data. The system does not connect with any other systems.

(d) The way the system operates to achieve the purpose(s) identified in Section 4

The purpose of the CWC system is to allow the secure collection, validation and reporting of information required under the Chemical Weapons Convention Treaty. The system facilitates the process of collecting information from industry and submitting it through the National Authority to the Organization of the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW).

(e) How information in the system is retrieved by the user

The Web-DESI application is accessible via the Internet through an external web portal that is protected by a firewall and is encrypted via Secure Socket Layers (SSL). Information cannot be retrieved without multiple credentials.

(f) How information is transmitted to and from the system

U.S. chemical facilities and tracing companies submit data either via paper submissions which the data is manually entered into the Information Management System (IMS), or electronically through the web-based Web-data Entry System (Web-DESI). Once all relevant data has been received and processed, the United States declaration is compiled and exported in hard copy format as well as in XML file format (on DC), both of which are transmitted to the State Department, the U.S. National Authority, for submission to the Technical Secretariat of the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW).

(g) Any information sharing conducted by the system

The information is shared with the Department of State, the U.S. National Authority of the Chemical Weapons Convention, and the international organization responsible for implementing the Convention, the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons Convention as provided for under the Convention.

(h) The specific programmatic authorities (statutes or Executive Orders) for collecting, maintaining, using, and disseminating the information

Chemical Weapons convention Implementation Act of 1998 (P.L. 105-277, 22 U.S.C. 6701 et. seq.) Executive Order 13128 of June 25, 1999 (64 Fed Reg. 34703) (authorizing the Department of Commerce to issue regulations necessary to implement the Act, U.S. Weapons Convention Regulations (CWCR,), 15 CFR Parts 710 through 721.

(i) The Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) 199 security impact category for the system

(For example: If a decision was made to collect less data, include a discussion of this decision; if it is necessary to obtain information from sources other than the individual, explain why.)

Because this is a system that only persons with only a need to know have access to it there is always that chance of insider threat. Or when sharing information with State Parties across a firewall that is encrypted. However, even with multiple credentials, the approved shared information is only accessible by persons of that particular company. This is done to limit access to unwarranted information.
